WE WILL KEEP UP THE FIGHT

OXFORD'S top cop has pledged to continue the fight against robbers, after new statistics revealed an overall drop in cases in the city.

By James Booker
jamesb@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Figures released this week show robberies in Oxford saw an overall drop of 11.5 per cent between April 1, 2013, and March 11 this year.

And the number of personal robberies fell from 126 to 102 during the same period.

Area commander, Superintendent Christian Bunt, said: "We understand the effect of violence on victims, witnesses and the wider community and as such have worked hard to reduce offending and deal robustly with suspects.

"This approach has resulted in some very positive results over the last 12 months.

"A total of nine arrests have been made and six people have been charged with robbery from business premises over the last few months.

"We have seen an overall drop in robberies over the year since April 2013 and have a dedicated team of officers who continue to work hard to further reduce these offences from taking place, but also catch the offenders if they do so."

However, he admitted the rise in business robberies in Oxford over the last year was worrying.

"There have been eight more offences in robbery at business premises which is naturally a concern but have also seen 24 fewer victims of personal robbery in the same period.

"We work closely with local businesses to provide crime prevention advice. This is particularly the case for premises that have been victims to try and ensure they are not targeted again.

"I have a crime reduction officer who is able to meet with any commercial premises that would like some support and advice.

"We are making full use of Thames Valley Alerts to send crime awareness and prevention advice to local residents and the business community."

Cops: stay vigilant to risk of frauds

RECENT courier fraud incidents have forced Thames Valley Police to encourage members of the public to be extra vigilant in the face of scams.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The latest con involves victims handing over their bank card to couriers, because they have been told it has been compromised.

Between February 27 and March 5, three people in their 80s were targeted, with two of them losing money.

An 80-year-old had £8,000 stolen from his account while an 86-year-old had over £1,600 taken.

The third victim, another 80-year-old, was targeted last week, but became suspicious and called the police.

Officers say victims receive a phone call from someone stating their bank card has been compromised.

They are asked to call back on the number on the back of the card but the offender does not hang up.

Unknowingly, the victim speaks to the same person who takes their card details, including the pin.

Offenders then tell the victim to put the card in an envelope and hand it over to a courier who has come to pick it up.

Investigating Officer, Det Con Darren Little said: "If you receive a call like this make sure you call the police using a different phone line to the one you received the call on."

Det Con Little added that taxi firms "are being innocently used to collect and deliver the packages to a London destination".

He continued: "On two occasions the taxi companies have become suspicious when collecting the package and contacted us, resulting in the packages being intercepted and not being delivered to the offender.

"If you have also been a victim and not reported it yet, or had someone attempt the same or similar scam on you, then also get in touch."

Police wish to remind people that banks will never ask for your pin or bank card and if you receive such a call you should end it immediately.

Report any incidents to 101.

Flying flag for Commonwealth

OXFORDSHIRE County Council joined authorities, dignitaries, groups and charities across the country by honouring Commonwealth Day earlier this week.

Council chairman, Cllr Timothy Hallchurch MBE, raised the Commonwealth flag at the front entrance to County Hall on Monday morning.

The event is part of an initiative that encourages communities to associate themselves with the widespread public expression of commitment to the Commonwealth.

It is also designed to urge people to appreciate the values it stands for and the opportunities offered to its citizens around the world.

Cllr Hallchurch MBE said: "It is a great honour to raise the Commonwealth flag on behalf of Oxfordshire.

"Our county, with its vibrant and diverse communities, epitomises people coming together to celebrate our shared values."

'More omega-3 equals better sleep patterns'

AN OXFORD University study suggests the more omega-3 DHA fatty acids we consume, the better we sleep.

Researchers have explored whether 16 weeks of daily supplements of algal sources would improve the sleep of 362 children, aged between seven and nine-years-old.

The study showed that the children had 58 minutes more sleep and seven fewer waking episodes per night.

Co-investigator Dr Alex Richardson of Oxford University said previous studies showed blood levels of omega-3 DHA in seven to nine-year-olds were "alarmingly low".

He added: "This could be directly related to the children's behaviour and learning.

"Poor sleep could well help to explain some of those associations.

"Further research is needed given the small number of children involved in the pilot study.

"However, this randomised controlled trial does suggest that children's sleep can be improved by DHA supplements.

"It indicates yet another benefit of higher levels of omega-3 in the diet."

Fired up for different type of charity walk

MEMBERS of the public are being encouraged to hotfoot it over to Oxford City FC this weekend for a charity Fire Walk.

From 5.45pm on Saturday, willing volunteers will put mind over matter and walk barefoot over burning coals.

Money raised on the evening will go to Helen & Douglas House, SeeSaw, Aspire, Sobell House and Special Effect.

There will also be refreshments on the day, as well as entertainment and an inspirational talk before the walk across the coals.

Mary Boullin, head of Community and Events at Helen & Douglas House said: "I've managed to avoid taking part in our events before, but this sounded like too good an opportunity to miss as there's no need for a long training schedule.

"I'm getting all fired up for it already and looking forward to raising lots of money for the children and young adults that we support at our fantastic charity."

If you would like to take part in the Fire Walk call Helen & Douglas House on 01865 799150.

Martha death: teenager admits dealing drugs

Have your say on adult social care services

PEOPLE who use adult social care across Oxfordshire are being invited to have their say on its services at an event tomorrow.

A Hearsay event, facilitated by Healthwatch Oxfordshire, offers residents the opportunity to meet with representatives of the county council.

Service users, their families and their carers are welcome to share their views on service provision, improvements, and future priorities.

David Roulston, director of Healthwatch Oxfordshire, said: "We are working closely with the county council to gather views from local people about adult social care and hear about their experience of using these services.

"Hearsay is open to all and we look forward to hosting a productive event."

Tomorrow's meeting will be the fifth of its kind in Oxfordshire.

John Jackson, director of Social and Community Services at the county council, said: "We are committed to taking action to help improve adult social care in Oxfordshire.

"This next event is an opportunity for people to hear about developments and continue to shape local adult care services."

Spaces are limited and to book a place, call 01865 520520.

A TEENAGER from Botley has been sentenced after dealing the class A drugs that led to the death of a 15-year-old girl in Oxford.

Alex Williams, 17, who can be named after legal restrictions were lifted, has been given an 18-month youth rehabilitation order with a 90-day curfew.

He pleaded guilty to dealing class A drugs, namely a gram of MDMA, at Oxford Crown Court on Monday.

On July 17 last year, Williams sold the drugs to a group of four girls in Gloucester Green, Oxford.

Martha Fernback (pictured) collapsed in Hinksey Park after taking some of the drugs on July 20.

She died a short while later at the John Radcliffe Hospital and the subsequent investigation showed the cause of death to be MDMA toxicity or poisoning.

Further analysis of the remaining drugs seized showed purity levels of the substances to be around 91 per cent.

The average purity of MDMA seizures in the Thames Valley between May and September 2013, was 58.5 per cent.

Det Con Matthew Hodgetts said: "This is a tragic case, but it was not simply an accident.

"Those dealing MDMA must be aware that it is potentially fatal, especially since the purity can be so hard to assess.

"Williams took that risk anyway, all for £20 profit.

"I can only hope that he and others like him think more about the consequences of their actions to avoid this terrible event from happening again."

A statement from Martha's family, released just after her death last year, described the 15-year-old as an "extraordinary, effervescent human being."

Row over flooding in Oxford homes

THE city council's ruling administration has denied claims it is not doing enough to help residents of areas of Oxford, whose properties have been affected by sewage after the recent flooding.

The wettest January in 250 years saw residents in some Marston roads flooded.

And it was not just the rising water that were encroaching on people's homes - some had filth and sewage mixed in.

Independent Marston councillor Mick Haines claims there are not enough flood and sewage defences in the area, and added the proposed development

By James Booker

jamesb@taylornewspapers.co.uk

of 880 homes in Barton will mean Marston bears the brunt of the effects of the new site.

"It surprises me that it's gone on for so long, and nothing's been done to improve it through the years," he said.

"I'm not against the houses being built – we need them – but we certainly need the real infrastructure in there first."

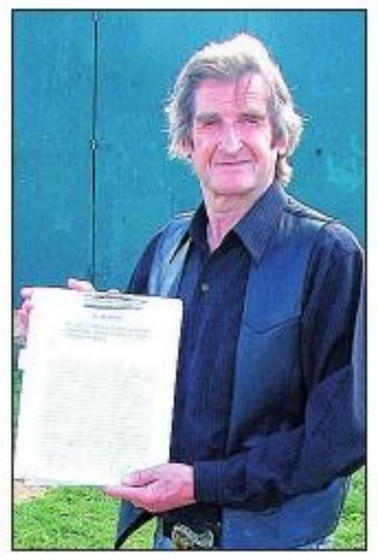
However, Cllr Haines' claims have been disputed by Roy Darke, ward member for Headington Hill and Northway and former representative of Marston.

Cllr Darke said Cllr Haines 'had got his facts wrong', and that he [Darke] was looking into the sewage situation.

"To keep saying that flood alleviation measures have not worked when the evidence is in the other direction shows lack of judgement," he said.

"It is not a matter of shouting and giving misinformation."

Cllr Darke added he was heading an investigation into sewage flooding in Oxford, and will meet with Thames Water, MPs Andrew Smith and Nicola Blackwood and authorities on May 2, to seek "the necessary money to rebuild problem parts of the Oxford sewerage system".



• Councillors have rejected Marston ward member Mick Haines' claim they are not pursuing the proper means of infrastructure for the new Barton development

Man attacked

A 20-year-old man was attacked and bitten on the nose by three men in Cowley last Sunday evening.

The victim was approached in Barracks Lane at 5.55pm and was assaulted by two men.

A third man then bit him on the nose.

He managed to escape but required treatment at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

The first offender was white, in his 50s, and wearing pyjamas, while the second offender was white and had a skin head haircut. The third offender was black, in his 20s, with black hair.

If you have any information regarding the offence call 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Tower block plans on show

ENHANCED plans for improving the city's tower blocks will be on show next week as designs move closer to being finalised.

Evenlode, Foresters, Hockmore, Plowman and Windrush Towers are set to be improved as part of an Oxford City Council programme.

Plans include external appearance, colour preference for cladding and landscaping.

Tenants, leaseholders and the local community will have the opportunity to choose their preferred options by completing a survey.

Cllr Scott Seamons, board member for Housing said: "The extensive works we have planned for the tower blocks take time to design so we make sure we get it right.

"At the previous set of consultations residents were incredibly positive and their thoughts have been incorporated into our thinking.

"I encourage residents of the blocks and those from their wider communities to come, take a look, and share their thoughts as we finalise designs."

Consultations will take place at Plowman (March 17), Foresters (March 18), Hockmore (March 19), Evenlode and Windrush Towers (both March 20).

Residents in praise for Summertown nursing home

A SUMMERTOWN nursing home has been awarded top marks for care by its own residents.

One hundred per cent of residents rated the overall service at Bupa's Green Gates Nursing Home, on Hernes Crescent, as 'excellent' or 'very good'.

The results are from an annual independent survey which provides those living in care homes to comment on the quality of the services provided.

Margo Wilcock, home manager at Bupa's Green Gates Nursing Home, said she was delighted with the feedback.

"Our residents are the best judges of the care we provide and I'm delighted to see such a positive response from them," she said.

"Ensuring our residents' wellbeing is our absolute priority so knowing we're making so many residents happy with the individual care we provide is extremely rewarding.

"This result is a tribute to our hard-working people and the excellent care they provide."

Bupa has also recently launched a new helpline for people - call 03339 206795.

Oxon's museums get £300k funding boost

FOUR county-based museums have been awarded grants totalling over £300,000 as part of the Arts Council's funding scheme.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The Ashmolean Museum of Art and Archaeology, Oxford University Museum of Natural History, River and Rowing Museum Foundation, and Banbury Museum will all benefit from a portion of the £327,274 of funding.

The Renaissance strategic support fund and Designation development fund are part of Arts Council England's total investment programme for regional museums in England.

Hedley Swain, area director for the South East at Arts Council England, said: "Across both funds we have seen some really innovative projects.

"They will strengthen the resilience of the successful museums and improve audience engagement, creating greater accessibility to the wonderful collections each holds. We are particularly delighted to see so many museums making the most of digital technology and harnessing it to create more accessible experiences, for all museum users."

The Ashmolean Museum of Art and Archaeology and Oxford University Museum of Natural History were successful in securing money from the Designation development fund.

Well known for being the oldest museum in the UK, the Ashmolean's project involves reconfiguring the existing gallery space to display Michael Wellby's bequest of silver, goldsmith's work, and Kunstkammer objects.

Meanwhile, the Museum of Natural History will transfer its collections documentation database into one single central management system.

The River and Rowing Museum Foundation and Banbury Museum were among 57 organisations to receive money through the Strategic support fund.

In partnership with Langley Academy, the River and Rowing Museum in Henley will have a series of teacher and museum champions.

Banbury Museum will use the money to build their fundraising activities, capacity and resources.

Hinduism famed festival of colour celebrations lined up for Iffley hotel

AN OXFORD hotel is holding its inaugural Holi Festival of Colours event this Saturday to celebrate the arrival of Spring.

Holi is an ancient Hindu festival which celebrates love and colours and the Tree Hotel in Iffley sees it is a great way to wave goodbye to winter.

"This is going to be a fantastic way to bid farewell to the miserable winter, and to celebrate the arrival of spring," said managing director Kavita Pal.

"Hindus regard it as a symbolic way to start afresh with the new season, and lay bad relationships to rest.

"It will be colourfully spectacular."

Anyone wanting to attend should dress in white, with the idea of creating the effect of leaving the hotel as a rainbow.

The throwing of natural powders will result in a bright, visual celebration for all guests who will also enjoy a banquet of Indian street food.

Cornbury, Truck, Henley, Big Feastival to attract biggest names in music

Oxon's festivals announce their main attractions

WITH spring just around the corner, festival season is fast approaching and some of the biggest names in music are flocking to the county this summer.

Set on Alex James' idyllic Cotswolds farm near Kingham, The Big Feastival (August 29-31) is no different with music, food and fun for the family.

"It's going to be one hell of a party!," said Blur bassist Alex, who hosts the feastival alongside TV chef Jamie Oliver.

British DJ Fatboy Slim, jazz singer-songwriter Jamie Cullum and American pop star Kelis headline this year's event.

Of course, The Big Feastival is just one of many events this summer.

The Cornbury Music Festival (July 4-6), based at the Great Tew Estate, near Chipping Norton, celebrated its 10th anniversary last year and hosts a line-up full of famous names.

Jools Holland, with special guests, including ex Spice Girl Melanie C and Soft Cell's Marc Almond, is joined by The Feeling, Sophie Ellis Bextor, Scouting for Girls and X Factor winner Sam Bailey.

"Once again I think we've managed to get a brilliant cross-section of great music," said Cornbury music festival director, Hugh Phillimore.

"With Cornbury's unique family atmosphere, it's going to be a lot of fun."

Over at the Henley Festival (July 9-13), The Jacksons, Joss Stone and Burt Bacharach headline.

Siblings Jackie, Jermaine, Marlon, and Tito can't wait to bring their magic to Henley.

"We are thrilled and honoured to be performing at the historic Henley Festival," they said.

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"We look forward to putting on a great and memorable show for all of the attendees."

Over at Hill Farm, Steventon, Truck (July 18-19) is back for another year with White Lies, The Cribs, Stornoway and Kids In Glass Houses among the performers.

The Waterboys lead the line-up at Fairport's Cropredy Convention (August 7 - 9), which heralds itself as 'Britain's friendliest music festival'.

Steve Hackett from Genesis and The Australian Pink Floyd Show also lead the bill.

Very talented

TALENTED groups and individuals in North Oxfordshire will be in action on Sunday night, with the arrival of Banbury's Got Talent at the Mill Arts Centre.

Acts from across the region will be demonstrating their skills in music, comedy, acting and alike in Sunday's finals, where the winner will be crowned.

It's Faustus

FOLK trio Faustus have embarked on their spring tour, and will perform at Abingdon's Unicorn Theatre on Tuesday.

Their appearance is part of Folk at the Unicorn, which sees a number of artists and bands visit the theatre in a regular series of concerts.

Doors open at 7.30pm.

Henley Players

THE Henley Players present Quartet, a comedic play set in a retirement home for gifted musicians, which comes to the Kenton Theatre from Wednesday.

Preparations for the annual concert are underway to celebrate Verdi's birthday, but is disrupted by the arrival of eternal diva Jean, when former rivalries resurface.

Times and ticket prices can be found at www.kentontheatre.co.uk.

Audiograft

EXPERIMENTAL music and sound art festival Audiograft comes to the Old Fire Station, curated by the Sonic Art Research Unit at Oxford Brookes University.

Tomorrow sees a focus on Electroacoustic compositions, while Saturday sees solo performances by sound artists Dawn Scarfe and Rie Nakajima.

Tunnels looks to help teens with learning difficulties

A MULTI-SENSORY theatre production for teenagers with profound learning disabilities comes to Didcot's Cornerstone theatre this evening.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Tunnels has been created by theatre company Frozen Light specifically for audiences with multiple learning disabilities, and it takes the audience on an interactive and multi-sensory journey.

The story follows Lana as she searches for the light that has disappeared from her city, and is enticed into the tunnels by the mysterious Cardini.

Each tunnel appears different from its smell, texture and light, as Lana tries to find her way back up to the city.

It has been co-created by Frozen Light directors Amber Onat Gregory and Lucy Garland, and have utilised the talents of Al Watts to create the original score.

Lucy said: "In the last year we have received so much support, enabling us to create a high quality theatre production for an audience who do not usually have access to the theatre.

Amber added: "This national tour is giving families the opportunity to come to the theatre together for a show that the whole family can enjoy. Not only that, it is also appropriate for a teenager with profound and multiple learning disabilities. Tunnels is an exciting adventure where Lana searches for the light that has mysteriously disappeared from her city.

"Leaving the place that she calls home, Lana travels deep below the city into an underground world filled with music, smells and curious characters."

Cornerstone director Emma Dolman said: "We're very excited to be working with Frozen Light, and at Cornerstone we are passionate about providing accessible theatre for everyone in our local community.

"We are keen to develop our programme of accessible activities for all, be they performances, participation or social opportunities."

For show times and ticket costs, contact the Cornerstone box office on 01235 515144.

Maximo Park

ALTERNATIVE rock band Maximo Park hit Oxford's O2 Academy next Tuesday as part of their UK tour.

The Mercury Prize-nominated five-piece recently released new album 'Too Much Information'.

Fans will be treated to latest single 'Leave This Island' as well as early hit 'Apply Some Pressure'.

Theatre classic

PULITZER Prize winning 'A Streetcar Named Desire' comes to Oxford Playhouse next week.

It tells the story of Blanche DuBois who flees her Louisiana home to find herself in the brutal world of downtown New Orleans.

After moving in with her sister Stella, Blanche shares a lyrical and poetic story of misfortune, hardship and bad luck. Tickets cost £17 across March 18 to March 22.

Get dancing

CECILIA Macfarlane presents a showcase of community dance at the Pegasus Theatre this weekend.

Starting tomorrow and ending on Saturday, all performances will be inspired by the theme of time.

There will also be a guest performance from Oxford Youth Dance Company. Tickets cost £7 and for more information call 01865 812150.

Set the controls for a Pink Floyd tribute night

OXFORD'S New Theatre is host to the Australian Pink Floyd Show on Sunday, for two-and-a-half hours of live music featuring songs from the renowned group.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

This year's 'Set the Controls' tour comes more than 20 years since the tribute act started out, and will see performances from the iconic albums 'The Dark Side of the Moon', 'Wish You were Here' and 'The Division Bell'.

The show in Oxford is the last date of the UK tour, where they aim to emulate the atmosphere of a live Pink Floyd gig. Bass player and vocalist Colin Wilson said: "What we've done this year is open up a forum on our website for the audience to be able to log in and choose their favourite two songs from each of the albums.

"It's because for years we've had people requesting songs and trying to get in touch with us so we thought we'll make more of an easy way for the audience to feel involved.

"We'll be doing the most popular songs from those albums on the night, and it's actually worked really well so far. And apart from that, it's also the best Pink Floyd music with all the bells and whistles you'd expect with a Pink Floyd concert."

Aussie Floyd have sold over three million concert tickets in their own right, and remain popular with Pink Floyd fans and their own audiences alike.

"Pink Floyd's music has got so many depths to it," Colin added. "There are lots of different moods and atmospheres they were able to create.

"They very rarely did two-and-a-half minute pop songs, so a lot of the songs are quite long and involved and had different movements.

"It's great fun and very challenging to play, and you can really get absorbed in the music."

Tickets start from £32.40, and the show begins at 7pm. For more details, go to www.newtheatreoxford.org.uk or call 0844 871 3020.

JOHN BRAMWELL SOLO TOUR
John Bramwell, singer-songwriter and frontman of Manchester's Iam Kloot, has announced details of a brand new solo tour kicking off in January 2014.
Iam Kloot have been performing since 1999, and in that time have garnered major critical acclaim; retained their credible, cult status; and developed a legion of devout fans 'dedicated to spreading the gospel of Iam Kloot'.
Its been an incredible couple of years for John with the band, with highlights including picking up a Mercury Music Nomination for Sky at Night and a number 10 entry into the UK Album Charts for this year's studio album, Let It All In.
Now John is taking a break to perform an exclusive set of intimate solo gigs at some of the country's best loved venues. Having been all over the world with the band these last couple of years, playing some of the most prestigious venues around, this is a chance for John to go back to his roots and entertain smaller audiences.
The tour is the only place where fans can buy John's solo record 'John Bramwell Live At the Trades' - a one hour recording of John's legendary gig at the Trades Club in summer 2013.
This promises to be a very special show for fans old and new.

WIN Need For Speed movie goodies!

FRESH from prison, framed for a crime he didn't commit, street racer Tobey Marshall (Breaking Bad's Aaron Paul), is hell bent on settling the score.

With revenge at the forefront of his mind, he gears up for the ultimate cross-country race heaving with adrenaline-charged muscle machines and high-octane super cars. When his powerful rival (Dominic Cooper – The Devil's Double) places a massive bounty on his head, the wheels are set in motion and the race is finally on.

Based on the most successful racing game franchise of all time, bursting with explosive action and exhilarating stunts, NEED FOR SPEED accelerated into cinemas on MARCH 12, 2014.

WIN GOODIES!

To help you enjoy this action packed film even more we have a fantastic prize package available. 3 lucky readers will win a merchandising pack that includes a T-Shirt, USB stick, I Pad case, Steering Wheel Keyring and Tyre Clock.

Closing date:
Friday, March 28, 2014

To be in with a chance of winning one of these packs all you have to do is answer one simple question:

Q: What award winning TV show starring Aaron Paul has recently finished after 5 series?

Mature and more refined MINI is still highly enjoyable to drive

Maintaining the fun factor

REVIEW: BMW MINI

By Iain Dooley

THIRD time is set to be the charm for BMW as it launches a bigger, better MINI with a greater accent on economy, performance and a premium feel.

It might have grown slightly but there's no mistaking the oversize headlights and signature grille - it can only be a MINI.

That's all that's familiar about BMW's third-generation hatchback, though. Underneath the iconic shape lies an all-new platform, engines and transmissions plus an increased focus on delivering an engaging yet refined driving experience.

Facts at a glance

Model: Mini Cooper, from ¬£15,300 on the road

Engine: 1.5-litre petrol unit developing 134bhp

Transmission: 6-speed manual transmission as standard, driving the front wheels

Performance: Maximum speed 130mph, 0-62mph 7.9 seconds

Economy: 62.8mpg

CO2 Rating: 105g/km

And while the new car has grown slightly in all dimensions - it's 98mm longer, 44mm wider and 28mm longer between the wheels - the basic proportions and design cues remain.

Inside the cabin the car's trademark oversize central speedometer has been re-purposed to house the infotainment screen and the traditional key has been ditched in favour of a funky backlit engine start toggle switch.

BMW has blessed the car with (standard and cost-option) technology more commonly found in 'grown-up' cars, such as a neat head-up display, parking camera and a self park function, user selectable electronic damper modes, DAB radio, intelligent cruise control and traffic sign recognition.

The good news extends rewards, as rear seat passengers now have more room - an old Mini bugbear - and the boot is a sensible size.

It's still a bit of squeeze to get in the back but once installed it's noticeably more comfortable, while folding the rear seats further enhances the car's versatility.

Cooper and go-faster Cooper S models make up the range at launch, with the former utilising BMW's new 1.5-litre three-pot petrol motor and the latter a new 2.0-litre petrol unit. All engines are now turbocharged, and significant economy and performance gains have been made across the board.

In popular Cooper guise, the car's new motor puts out a useful 134 horsepower enabling the zero to 62mph sprint in a brisk 7.9 seconds.

Also, power comes in much lower down the rev range, saving you much stirring of the admittedly slick manual gear shift.

And the best news? You can have all this performance while enjoying an official combined economy figure of 62.8mpg and a tax-dodging 105g/km CO2 emissions rating.

It's the same cake-and-eat-it scenario out on the road. The MINI Cooper delivers an engaging driving experience, while at the same time maintaining a high level of comfort and refinement across a wide range of road conditions.

The car's electric power steering gives nothing away in terms of feel and does much to contribute to the previous car's 'go kart-like' sensation that BMW is so keen to maintain, while engine response is right up there with dedicated sports cars.

The three-pot turbo motor even sounds the part, emitting a gruff, purposeful note when you're pressing on. But it's the car's ride and grip levels that impress most. The combination will flatter less experienced drivers and do much to keep them safe if they inadvertently test the limits of their talents, yet the potential still exists for keen drivers to fully exploit the MINI's playful character.

• The new MINI

And unlike it's predecessor, this third-gen MINI's ride boasts a more supple and mature character, resulting in a vastly more enjoyable experience when encountering poorly surfaced urban streets.

The end result is a fluid ride and enjoyable, confidence-inspiring time behind the wheel.

Verdict:

The important thing to take away from this all-new MINI experience is that, while the car has grown slightly in size, is more refined and comes with all the toys you'd expect to find in more grown-up cars, BMW has ensured that the fun factor remains right at the heart of the driving and ownership experience.

Figures add up with Dacia's "shockingly affordable" Duster offer

DACIA is celebrating its first birthday by making its "shockingly affordable" market-leading model even more enticing, with a range of hot monthly repayment offers for the spring.

Brits took the smart-buy range to its heart last year, making it the fastest-growing car brand in the country. Now they are being rewarded with an unbeatable offer, available on new Duster models ordered until 31st March 2014, which start from £9,495.

Selected Duster Ambiance models are available from just £199 deposit and £199 per month. For just £10 per month extra, customers can upgrade to enjoy the benefits of Laureate.

Dacia UK Brand Manager, Andy Heiron, said: "After a record-breaking year, it seemed only right to show our appreciation to the public. Dacia came to the UK with one mission: to shake up the long stagnant new and used markets by offering "shockingly affordable" vehicles with high levels of quality and unrivalled space and equipment for the money. We've been asking customers to 'Do The Maths', but even I'm struggling to get my head around this latest price – what you are getting for your money is scary!"

Having sold more than 17,000 cars in 2013 across its four-strong line-up, Duster led the way with 7,830 orders. In its first year, Duster picked up the overall Scottish Car of the Year trophy, a hat-trick from Carbuyer.co.uk, including Car of the Year, for its "sensational value", while its 4x4 and towing abilities saw it register at the Caravan Club and Towcar ceremonies.

The model has clearly struck a chord with budget-conscious new and used car buyers up and down the country, although its success undoubtedly comes down to more than mere affordability. The stylish SUV scores high on practicality and reliability, together with low-running costs and fuel-efficient engines. It has a roomy cabin and huge boot to round off its tempting package plus the bonus of rugged off-road capability in its 4x4 guises.

All of the latest Dacia range information is available at Dacia Retailers across the UK, on "www.dacia.co.uk, or by calling 0844 335 1111. All the latest news and videos are available across social media too, including www.youtube.com/DaciaUK, on twitter @DaciaUK and www.facebook.com/DaciaUK.

Finance provided by RCI Financial Services Limited, Egale House, 78 St Albans Road, Watford, WD17 1AF. You must be 18 or over and a UK resident (excluding Isle of Man and Channel Islands) to apply. Finance is available subject to status. Guarantees and indemnities may be required. Terms and conditions apply. At participating dealers only. Not available in conjunction with any schemes or other offers, please check with your local dealer for information.

LEWIS: THERE WERE LOTS OF POSITIVES

Caretaker boss happy with performance despite Cheltenham draw

CARETAKER boss Mickey Lewis was delighted with his side's display against Cheltenham on Tuesday night, despite being held to a 1-1 draw at the Kassam.

Ryan Williams' fine solo effort gave the U's a deserved lead with 15 minutes to go.

But a cruel blow saw a ball into the U's box inadvertently flick up off substitute Jamie Cureton's shinpad and over the helpless Ryan Clarke with six minutes remaining.

In his pre-match notes, Lewis had called for the right response to the defeat against Burton on Saturday, and was pleased with what the players gave him.

By James Booker

jamesb@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I'm delighted with the performance to be honest – I thought we carried on from the other night," he said.

"Give Cheltenham a bit of credit – they had a couple of great blocks on the line – we should win the game, but I am delighted with the performance.

"You do need a bit of luck, we've never [mentioned] about having bad luck in [the last few] games, but Cheltenham did have a bit of fortune with their goal. He's lucky, no doubt about it. But even after that, we had chances to win it. I'm frustrated, but really pleased with the way we played."

James Constable started on the left of midfield, and looked a danger coming in off the flank, winning a lot of aerial battles and turning out a typically committed and robust display.

Meanwhile, Josh Ruffels and Johnny Mullins occupied the middle of the park in place of the more familiar recent pairing of Danny Rose and loanee Nicky Wroe.

Goalscorer Williams, who has just penned a new deal with parent club Fulham, was as lively as ever on the right, and crowned his man-of-the-match display by winning the ball 30 yards from goal, keeping his head and shooting low across Robins' keeper Scott Brown.

"He's a real threat going forward – he takes the ball for a run, and he's a clever player as well.

"At the moment, he's playing his heart out for Oxford United, and we're happy to have him."

The draw leaves the U's winless in five and facing a trip to league leaders Chesterfield on Saturday. However, none of the top seven won on Tuesday, meaning Oxford remain sixth, five points off eighth-placed Plymouth and trailing Rochdale in the last automatic promotion spot by the same amount.

More to us than brawn - coach Burnell

JUSTIN Burnell says London Welsh's third consecutive bonus point win shows the Exiles are more than just a big pack.

Welsh ran in five tries in a 42-18 win over Moseley last Sunday with Ollie Stedman (2), Nathan Morris, Joe Ajuwa and Nick Scott all going over.

The Exiles are currently third in the Greene King IPA Championship, seven points behind Bristol Rugby, with five games of the regular season to go.

Burnell said: "People are quite quick to say we're a big heavy pack, and we are a big heavy side.

"But the skills within our pack are the best I've seen from a team that I've worked with. People forget that.

"It's getting drier and the pitches are getting harder, and the bonus point wins are coming thick and fast.

"So we must be doing something right."

Welsh head to Cornish Pirates on Sunday, where they will look to close the gap to the top of the table with Bristol and second-placed Leeds Carnegie without a fixture.

Ford's City too good for brave Banbury

OXFORD City needed extra-time to see off plucky Banbury United in the quarter finals of the Oxfordshire Senior Cup on Tuesday night.

Mike Ford's side ran out eventual 6-2 winners after going into the additional period at 2-2.

Indeed, it could so easily have been a different story, with the visitors taking the lead twice in the match.

Conor Collins put the north Oxfordshire side in front after 22 minutes with a well-taken lob, but Mike Symonds' header 14 minutes later levelled proceedings.

Undeterred, Banbury rallied and took the lead early in the second half through Adeyinka Talabi, but Symonds equalised once more with a quarter of the game to go.

And City proved to be too strong for the visitors as the game headed into extra time.

Goals from Declan Benjamin, Paul Stonehouse and Aky Chrediy followed, before Symonds capped a fine individual display with his hat-trick.
